Clerk Hollman: "House Perfunctory Session will come to order. Introduction of Senate Bills. Senate Bill 931, offered by Representative Mah, a Bill for an Act concerning government. First Reading of this Senate Bill."

Speaker Manley: "The House will be in order. Members will be in their chairs. We shall be led today by Reverend Mike Rayson from Alton Main Street United Methodist Church. Mr. Rayson is the guest of Representative Elik. Members and guests are asked to refrain from starting their laptops, turn off all cell phones, and rise for the invocation and Pledge of Allegiance. Mr. Rayson."

Reverend Rayson: "Let us pose for a moment of reflection. God of love and love who is God, thank you for our state and for the role that you have invited us to play within it. Give us courage to face the future, ready to fight for the smallest of those within our districts and fields of work wherever and whenever we are propelled into action. And in every moment when we're simply called to get on with the work at the coalface, lifting up the heads and hearts for all those for whom we bear responsibility. Thank you for the land on which we stand, the land occupied for thousands of years by our first nations. May we do the ancestors who gather in clouds of witnesses rightful and truthful justice and service. Thank you for those who keep our state running. Not those we immediately think of, but of those we don't. For the ones who clean our offices at night. For the people who collect the trash and clean hotel rooms. For those who care for sick children and those who coach little league. For those who are often rarely seen and, for most of the time, unseen, we are grateful. We thank you for our responders, for our military, police, fire, for our ambulance drivers, for our teachers, for our students, for our mayors, for our local government. As the business of this day in this chamber begins, call us to attention, God. Invite us to be our best selves and show us the way forward for this great State of Illinois. God, I particularly give thanks this day for the work of Representative Elik. Thank you for her dedication to the 111th District. And thank you, too, for those who stand behind her, for Don, her husband, and for her children, Caroline and Adam. Keep them safe from harm and enable them to be her biggest cheerleaders. On this day, God, bless the families, the children, the grandchildren, their parents, and the siblings of each Member of this House, that they may serve as a mountain on which each Member stands ready to serve you in Illinois. Teach us to have fun while we serve, to smile and laugh with each other, even when we work on the most serious of tasks. We ask this knowing that you got a present already in this chamber. Let me leave you with a blessing from the country that I am originally from. For you, deep stillness of the silent inland. For you, deep blue of the desert sky. For you, flame red of the rocks and stones. For you, deep water from the hidden springs. From the heartland seek the edges, and when you're burned by the journey, may the cool wind of the hovering spirit soothe and replenish you. In the name of God, Amen."

Greenwood: "Thank you, Madam Speaker. Let the record show that Representatives Lilly, Morgan, Mason, Gonzalez, Ramirez, and Yingling are excused today."

Batinick: "Thank you, Madam Speaker. On today, November 29, 2022, also known as Diane Batinick's 80th birthday, I would like to excuse Representative Marty McLaughlin, Steve Reick, Deanne Mazzochi, Tom Bennett, and Joe Sosnowski."

Speaker Welch: "Wow. That's all I have to do? Members of the General Assembly, welcome back to Springfield. I hope everyone had a safe and healthy holiday spent with loved ones. We have a special guest in the chamber today. However, I'm going to, you know, do a little something different today. I am going to let Leader Jim Durkin introduce our special guest. Before that, I want to take a... just a quick moment to say a few words about my friend, Leader Durkin. As many of you in this chamber know and have witnessed from time to time, Jim and I have had our disagreements. That's natural coming from different sides of the aisle. But I got to tell you, he's been a friend of mine for a very long time and I have always had a lot of respect for the Leader. He's represented his caucus very well for nine years. And after almost a decade in that position, he has stepped aside for new leadership and a new day in Springfield. What some of you may not know is that, before my time in the General Assembly, Leader Durkin helped me become an elected official in my community when I wanted to run for the local school board. He may not have voted for me and my Bills here in Springfield, but I was certainly happy that he supported me 22 years ago when I wanted to serve on that school board. I think we all owe a resounding thank you to my friend, your friend, Leader Jim Durkin, for his service leading the Republican Caucus. Can you please put your hands together and welcome him to the dais? Leader Durkin."

Durkin: "Mr. Speaker, thank you for those very kind words. And I tell you what, I've been trying to get up here in this position for many years now after many election cycles. But I..."

Speaker Welch: "It was very strategic."

Durkin: "Yeah, I'd say so. Holy cow. But again, I'm not quite done yet. We're going to... I'm going to stick around a little bit and see what the future is. But... moment... the reason I'm here is that we have a great guest. And many of you remember the Consul General who served for the Midwest over the years with David Bushby. He was sent back over the pond, back over to the old sod, as we say in Ireland, but this is Australia. And I have had an opportunity to meet the new Consul General for the Midwest. And we're honored to have with us today, Mr. Chris Elstoft, Midwest Consul General of Australia, who has had a lifetime career in foreign service for his country, serving in Indonesia, India, and Iraq. He is an economist, growing up in Melbourne. He's a father of three, and his wife is also part of the diplomatic service for the country of Australia and in Canada. It's quite a family. But he is in Chicago right now. He lives within a stone's throw of Wrigley Field. And maybe if he wants to see good baseball, he'll jump on the Red Line and go down to 35th Street. So, with that being said, I'd like to offer this moment to us to say hello to Mr. Chris Elstoft and hear his words of wisdom. So, thank you. Chris."

Consul General Elstoft: "Thank you, Leader Durkin. Mr. Speaker, Republican Leader, Members of the General Assembly, I'm conscious that I'm standing here between you and the U.S. versus Iran soccer match that's currently happening at the moment. So, if there are any cheers during my speech, I'll take it that I've just issued a funny joke rather than a goal has been scored. For some time, I've had an interest in U.S.

history. And so, it's a great privilege to be here in the Land of Lincoln, recalling the great debates of Lincoln and Douglas, thinking of the... of how Abraham Lincoln must have felt as he set off from here on his journey to Washington, D.C. to be inaugurated in 1861. And Lincoln serves as a useful example when I try and explain how Australian Members of the House of Representative are elected through ranked-choice voting. And I remind people here that the ballots at the Chicago Convention of which Lincoln was elected to... to be the nominee for the Republican Party were an example where Lincoln was everybody's second choice. And if you had had a system at that time, at that convention, where one didn't need 50 percent of the... of the delegates, then you would've had a New Yorker from Auburn as your 16th President. You may have heard that Australia has always been a most reliable and steadfast partner to the United States. And this is because we see the world similarly and we share your values of freedom and democracy. For more than 100 years, we fought side by side in every conflict. It started on the Western Front in World War I when, on the 4th of July, 1918, an Australian General, Sir John Monash, led Australian, British, and American troops to victory at the Battle of Hamel. This was the first time that Australians and American soldiers had fought together with the American soldiers comprising of the 131st and 132nd Infantry Regiments from the Illinois National Guard. Since then, we fought together in every major conflict and the defense relationship continues to strengthen and deepen. The Australia-U.S. alliance is a central pillar of Australia's foreign and security policy. So, for over 70 years, the

TRANSCRIPTION DEBATE

105th Legislative Day

alliance has contributed to peace, prosperity, and resilience in what we call the Indo-Pacific region. But it's certainly not static. In response to rapidly changing security situations in the Indo-Pacific, it's evolving and deepening. And an example of this is the AUKUS agreement. A-U-K-U-S. Australia, UK, U.S., which is a new security and technology partnership between those three countries. And under this partnership, something astounding is happening. For the first time in 70 years, and only the second time in history, the United States will share its nuclear propulsion technology, and they'll share that with Australia. So, you've only done this once before and that was with the United Kingdom after World War I. So, this is nuclear propulsion. It's not nuclear ammunitions. But you will support Australia's acquisition of conventionally armed, nuclear-powered submarines. Now, submarines might not be a big deal in Illinois, situated where you are, but they are hugely important to Australia's security and we greatly value the trust that this deal places in Australia. I said Australia was a reliable security partner and I want to say also that Australia is an important economic partner to the United States, to the Midwest, and also to Illinois. While our population is only 25 million, about double the size of this state, we are the world's 12th largest economy. Our economy is larger than Russia's. America is our number one economic partner when we combine investment and trade. It's more than $1.5 trillion of investment in both directions. And the United States is the largest investor in Australia by a wide margin. Today, over 10 thousand Australian companies sell to or operate in this country. And Australian companies directly employ an estimated 180 thousand people in the United States. They've invested between 20 and 30 billion dollars on new capital projects here just in the last 15 years. Over 1.3 million Australian tourists visit the United States each year and they spend over $8.7 billion, supporting thousands of jobs across the 50 states. And a sizeable number of Australian businesses have a presence in Illinois, whether its AMP Capital, Macquarie Bank in the finance sector, CSL Behring, which has a plasma and biotherapeutics plant, or Nufarm, which is in crop protection. So, for example, CSL, who's headquarters is in my hometown of Melbourne, have developed a major plasma processing facility here in Kankakee County, Illinois, employing 1500 people. And your companies have significant interest in Australia. Companies like Boeing, Caterpillar, John Deere, and the Northern Trust have a presence there. Recent data suggests that Australia is Illinois' fourth largest export market after Canada, Mexico... it's pretty hard to compete with them... and Germany, and well ahead of China. And these trade numbers are driven by industrial and electrical machinery as well as motor vehicles and parts. You may know that Australia has a free trade agreement with the United States, and that's a mutually beneficial agreement. And we're pleased to join the U.S. as a founding member of the IPEF, the INDO-Pacific Economic Framework for Prosperity, and that'll contribute to a more stable, peaceful, and prosperous Indo-Pacific. And more specifically, Australia is a key partner in some of the challenges that are emerging around global supply chains, and this is where I think security issues interact with trade issues. For example, Australia is a key supplier of critical minerals, such as lithium, which will power the batteries in electric vehicles, many of which will be built in the Midwest. You will have more and... you will hear more and more, I think, about on-shoring, friend-shoring, and ally-shoring over coming years, as countries look more closely at critical aspects of their supply chains. And Australia will be part of that picture, I think. So, Australia, as a friend and as an ally, can be relied upon as a partner. We both look to secure our supply chains, working with countries like Japan and Korea. I thank you very much for the opportunity to address this chamber. I wish you all the best for the remainder of your Session and for a safe and happy festive season ahead. Thanks very much."

Speaker Welch: "Members, the Consul General has agreed to take photos with any Members who desire. He'll be down to my right, here in the well. Leader Manley back in the Chair."

Speaker Manley: "On the Order of Agreed Resolutions, we have House Resolution 1013, presented by Leader Harris. Leader Harris."

Harris: "Thank you, Madam Speaker and Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. I've gotten to stand up and talk about this family before on the House Floor, but there are some families and some people you cannot talk about enough. So, today, we're going to talk about the Clifford family... or I'm sorry, the Dahl family again, and talk about Clifford and his... his brother, and of course their dad, Dave Dahl. Many of us have had the pleasure of being interviewed by Dave Dahl on a variety of topics. We know his questions are often incisive and they can be pressing. They can also be what sometimes we refer to as unique in his approach, especially in press conferences downstairs. And over the years, we have come to know him as a really great dad to Isaac and Clifford. But the fact that this General Assembly has recognized him and thanked him and have watched what he has put in to fathering his two sons, he's now been recognized for that statewide. And this Resolution honors a really great dad who has now been awarded the very first Outstanding Illinois Father of the Year award from the Illinois Council on Responsible Fatherhood. So, Dave, could you stand just for a minute so we can all see you? And thank you for pointing out your dad so that we could see him. And we've watched Dave, not only here on the floor, but we also watched him, sort of emblematic of how so many families struggled during COVID with the obligations of fatherhood, of caring for two sons, one of whom had medical struggles before COVID came along, and then going through it during COVID. You know, he's really a role model for what good fathers in our state looks like. And we're just very pleased today that in the House we can recognize you and honor you. I'd like to ask that, without objection, all Members of the General Assembly be added to this Resolution. And thank you, Madam Speaker. And thank you, Dave."

Speaker Manley: "All Members will be added to House Resolution 1013. Leader Harris moves for the adoption of House Resolution 1013. All those in favor say 'aye'; those opposed say 'nay'. In the opinion of the Chair, the 'ayes' have it. And the Resolution is adopted. On page 2 of the Calendar, under the Order of Agreed Resolutions, we have House Resolution 481, offered by Representative Meier. Representative Meier is recognized on the Resolution."

WHEREAS, The members of the Illinois House of Representatives wish to commend Officer Rob Horner and paramedic Martin Carlen for their heroic and lifesaving actions on Silver Lake on September 8, 2021; and

WHEREAS, With winds at least 20 mph that day, the men clinging to the boat could not hear Officer Horner calling to them; one of the men tried to climb onto the boat and kept falling back into the water; and

WHEREAS, The two fishermen were 76 and 83 years of age, respectively, and one had lost his life jacket and had his leg tangled in a rope; Officer Horner dove underwater to free the man's leg; eventually, the boat was flipped into position, and the passengers were able to regain their seats safely; and

Today with us... today, we have the 2022 Mount Carmel High School girls golf team, the Lady Aces, right behind me here, who are the Class 1A Girls Golf Championship. Guys, they won by 35 strokes. That's amazing, unbelievable, no 3-putts. The Lady Aces had a 2022 season record of 69-0. The team won back to back championships in 2021 and 2022 with two perfect seasons and a combined record of 147-0. Outstanding, guys. The Lady Aces' team roster includes Emily Gottman, Lillian Gottman, Maria Kennard, Miley Kennard, Zeme Moore, Alexis Wymer, and Madelyn Young. The team is led by Coach Karin Kelsey and Assistant Coach Abbey Carpenter. Congratulations, Lady Aces."

Speaker Manley: "Representative Niemerg moves for the adoption of House Resolution 995. All those in favor say 'aye'; opposed say 'nay'. In the opinion of the Chair, the 'ayes' have it. And House Resolution 995 is adopted. Leader Greenwood is recognized for announcement... is recognized."

Greenwood: "Thank you. Thank you, Madam Speaker and Members of the General Assembly. I am so excited today to congratulate the 6A... Halpin: "Thank you, Madam Speaker. So, we heard the news today that President Biden is seeking to intervene in the labor dispute involving railroad workers across the country and many of those workers who live right here in Illinois. And the administration wants Congress to step in and prevent these workers from exercising their right to strike. Frankly, I'm truly disturbed and frustrated with this news when corporate profits continue to roll in. We should be supporting the working class and their efforts to improve their lives and the lives of their families. Strikes are unpleasant, they're disruptive, and they cause friction, and that's exactly the point. Strikes demonstrate the economic power of workers' labor by withholding it. They show the company and the general public just how valuable their labor is. And more importantly, just the threat of a strike can help resolve disputes at the bargaining table. But sadly, the President's request undercuts that power. It turns a legitimate lever of power into a bluff that's easily called. What reason would the railroads have to compromise when they know that the workers won't have their most powerful economic tool? Why would they come to the table again when there's no downside risk by holding firm? And we're not talking just about this round of contract negotiations. What happens next time around when the railroads know that Congress is never going to let the railroad workers strike? We just passed a workers' rights Amendment here Illinois. Nearly 60 percent of the people that voted on that stood up and said we value workers' rights. Illinois is the literal crossroads for the rail industry in this country. We should not be part of undermining our own workers. And so, I'd ask each of you here today, and anyone listening or watching at home, to make sure to contact their member of Congress and contact their Senators and ask them to stand up for Illinois workers and allow them to protect that right to strike. Thank you."

STATE OF ILLINOIS

And our son, Jake Hamilton, is a senior on that team. And I don't know if you guys remember, but they stood up there in the gallery back in March and won a state championship in basketball as well.
