HOUSE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered and placed in the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 450

Offered by Representative Ford:

WHEREAS, The members of the Illinois House of Representatives wish to acknowledge the Tulsa, Oklahoma race riot of May 31 and June 1, 1921; and

WHEREAS, During the course of 18 hours on May 31 and June 1, 1921, more than 1,000 homes and businesses in Tulsa, Oklahoma were destroyed and estimates of 50 to 300 people were killed during the riot; and

WHEREAS, By early 1921, Tulsa, Oklahoma was a modern city with a population of more than 100,000; most of the city's 10,000 African-American residents lived in the Greenwood District, a vibrant neighborhood that was home to two newspapers, several churches, a library branch, and scores of black-owned businesses; and

WHEREAS, On May 30, 1921, an incident involving Dick Rowland, an African-American shoe shiner, and Sarah Page, a white elevator operator, in the Drexel Building in Tulsa would rapidly escalate into one of the single worst incidents of racial violence in American history; the most common explanation is that Rowland stepped on Page's foot as he entered the elevator, causing her to scream, and Rowland was arrested by the police; and

WHEREAS, On May 30, 1921, the Tulsa Tribune, the city's afternoon daily newspaper, reported that Rowland had attempted to rape Page; by 7:30 P.M., hundreds of whites had gathered outside the Tulsa County Courthouse, demanding that the authorities hand over Rowland, but the sheriff refused; at around 9 P.M., after reports of the dire conditions downtown reached Greenwood, a group of approximately 25 armed African-American men, many of them World War I veterans, went down to the courthouse and offered their services to the authorities to help protect Rowland, but were rebuffed by the sheriff; at around 10 P.M., a false rumor hit Greenwood that whites were storming the courthouse, prompting a second contingent of African-American men to go back to the courthouse and offer their services to the authorities, who were once again turned away; as the group was leaving, a white man tried to disarm a black veteran and a shot was fired, an incident that became the start of the riot; and

WHEREAS, Over the next 6 hours, Tulsa was plunged into chaos as angry whites, frustrated over the failed lynching, began to vent their rage at African-Americans in general; furious fighting erupted along the Frisco railroad tracks, where black defenders were able to hold off members of the white mob; an unarmed African-American man was murdered inside a downtown movie theater, while carloads of armed whites began making "drive-by" shootings in black residential neighborhoods; by midnight, fires had been set along the edge of the African-American commercial district; in some of the city's all-night cafes, whites began to organize for a dawn invasion of Greenwood; and

WHEREAS, During the early hours of the riot, local authorities did little to stem the growing crisis and Tulsa police officers had deputized former members of the lynch mob; local units of the National Guard were mobilized, but they spent most of the night protecting a white neighborhood from a nonexistent black counterattack; and

WHEREAS, Shortly before dawn on June 1, 1921, thousands of armed whites had gathered along the fringes of Greenwood; after daybreak, they poured into the African-American district, looting homes and businesses and setting them on fire; numerous atrocities occurred, including the murder of A. C. Jackson, a renowned black surgeon, who was shot after he surrendered to a group of whites; at least one machine gun was utilized by the invading whites and some have claimed that airplanes were used in the attack; black Tulsans fought hard to protect their homes and businesses, with particularly sharp fighting occurring off of Standpipe Hill, but were outgunned and outnumbered in the end; and

WHEREAS, Following the riot, a brief period of martial law was followed by various legal maneuvers; even though Dick Rowland was exonerated, an all-white grand jury blamed black Tulsans for the riot; despite overwhelming evidence, no whites were ever sent to prison for the murders and arson that occurred during the riot; and

WHEREAS, The vast majority of Tulsa's African-American population had been made homeless by the riot; despite efforts by the white establishment to force the relocation of the black community, black Tulsans had already begun the long and arduous process of rebuilding Greenwood within days of the riot; thousands were forced to spend the winter of 1921-1922 living in tents; and

WHEREAS, The deep scars left by the riot remained visible for years and the riot became a taboo subject, particularly in Tulsa, for many years; in 1997, a state commission was formed to investigate the riot; the commission recommended that reparations be paid to the remaining riot survivors, while a team of scientists and historians uncovered evidence supporting long-held beliefs that unidentified riot victims had been buried in unmarked grave sites; and

WHEREAS, It is important that the people of the State of Illinois and the nation do not forget this terrible tragedy; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we acknowledge the Tulsa, Oklahoma race riot of May 31 and June 1, 1921 and express our regret at this terrible event in American history.

Offered by Representative Dunkin:

WHEREAS, The federal Higher Education Opportunity Act and the Illinois Transparency in College Textbook Publishing Practices Act are laws that provide for transparency and ready availability of textbook and course material pricing and sales information and the unbundling of course materials; and

WHEREAS, Publishers have increased the availability of affordable options by producing unbundled, black and white, unbound, and electronic versions of textbooks and course materials; and

WHEREAS, Campus bookstores, both online and in-store, have increased the availability of lower cost alternatives for students by offering students choices between bundled products and components, print or digital formats, and choices in purchase versus rental; and

WHEREAS, Campus bookstores prominently display format and pricing options via shelf tags and other point of purchase materials to students in store and online; and

WHEREAS, While these alternative options, which offer more variety in pricing and can be more affordable to students and meet their specific needs or learning styles, are available for students, more education and outreach is needed to ensure students are fully aware of these options; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we encourage the Illinois Board of Higher Education, the Illinois Board of Higher Education Student Advisory Committee, and other student leaders, college officials, faculty, college bookstores, and publishers to discuss ways that college students may be better informed of these different textbook options and how access to them can be increased, without adversely impacting any existing textbook rental or already established access or affordability programs available to Illinois students; and be it further

RESOLVED, That suitable copies of this resolution be delivered to the Governor and to each member of the Illinois General Assembly.

WHEREAS, Pink Heals helps to raise awareness and funds for local women and community initiatives; and

WHEREAS, In 2012, the Pink Heals Tour traveled throughout Illinois with stops including Jacksonville, Joliet, Naperville, Downers Grove, Bartlett, Aurora, and Rockford; during that time, the tour made multiple home visits to deliver flowers and hugs to women with cancer; and

WHEREAS, There are currently 4 local chapters of Pink Heals in Illinois: Chicagoland (located in Downers Grove), Naperville, Joliet, and northern Illinois; and

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT 33

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, THE SENATE CONCURRING HEREIN, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the State for adoption or rejection at the general election next occurring at least 6 months after the adoption of this resolution a proposition to amend Section 3 of Article IX of the Illinois Constitution as follows:

ARTICLE IX REVENUE

SECTION 3. LIMITATIONS ON STATE INCOME TAXATION

(a) ~~There may be one tax on the income of individuals and corporations. This may be a fair tax where lower rates apply to lower income levels and higher rates apply to higher income levels. No government other than the State may impose a tax on or measured by income. A tax on or measured by income shall be at a non-graduated rate. At any one time there may be no more than one such tax imposed by the State for State purposes on individuals and one such tax so imposed on corporations. In any such tax imposed upon corporations the rate shall not exceed the rate imposed on individuals by more than a ratio of 8 to 5.~~

(b) Laws imposing taxes on or measured by income may adopt by reference provisions of the laws and regulations of the United States, as they then exist or thereafter may be changed, for the purpose of arriving at the amount of income upon which the tax is imposed.
