

1 AN ACT concerning criminal law.

3 represented in the General Assembly:

4 Section 5. The Criminal Code of 1961 is amended by changing
5 Section 26-3 as follows:

6 (720 ILCS 5/26-3) (from Ch. 38, par. 26-3)

7 Sec. 26-3. Use of a facsimile machine in unsolicited
8 advertising or fund-raising.

9 (a) Definitions. In this Section:

10 (0.5) "Established business relationship" means a prior or 11 existing relationship formed by a voluntary 2-way
12 communication between a person or entity, including 13 associations, and a business or residential subscriber with or 14 without an exchange of consideration, on the basis of an 15 inquiry, application, purchase, or transaction by the business 16 or residential subscriber regarding products, services, or 17 information offered by such person or entity, which 18 relationship has not been previously terminated by either 19 party.

20 (1) "Facsimile machine" means equipment which has the 21 capacity:

22 (A) to transcribe text or images, or both, from paper
23 into an electronic signal and to transmit that signal over

1 a regular telephone line, or

2 (B) to transcribe text or images, or both, from an 3 electronic signal received over a regular telephone line
4 onto paper ~~a device which is capable of sending or~~ 5 ~~receiving facsimiles of documents through connection with~~ 6 ~~a telecommunications network.~~

7 (2) "Person" means an individual, public or private 8 corporation, unit of government, partnership or unincorporated 9 association, except that for the purposes of subsection (d) of 10 this Section, "person" means any natural person and any 11 corporate or other entity.

12 (3) "Unsolicited advertising" has the same meaning as in 47
13 U.S.C. 227.

14 (b) No person shall knowingly use a facsimile machine to 15 send or cause to be sent to another person a facsimile of a 16 document containing unsolicited advertising or fund-raising 17 material, except to a person which the sender knows or under 18 all of the circumstances reasonably believes has given the 19 sender permission, either on a case by case or continuing 20 basis, for the sending of such material.

21 (c) Sentence. Any person who violates subsection (b) is 22 guilty of a petty offense and shall be fined an amount not to 23 exceed $500.

24 (d) Civil remedies. A person who uses or causes the use of 25 a facsimile machine to send unsolicited advertising is liable 26 in a civil action to the recipient, or other person who

1 suffered damages as a result of the violation. The recipient or 2 other person suffering damages may:

3 (1) bring an action to enjoin such violation;

4 (2) bring an action to recover actual damages from such 5 a violation or to receive $1,000 in damages for each such

13 this amendatory Act.

14 (f) A criminal prosecution or conviction is not a condition
15 of a civil action under this Section.

16 (g) Nothing in this Section prohibits the use of a 17 facsimile machine to send unsolicited advertising or 18 fund-raising material if the sender has an established business
19 relationship with the recipient of the facsimile transmission
20 and the recipient is provided a toll-free number to call or 21 email address to contact to be excluded from receiving
22 facsimile transmissions by the sender. However, if the sender
23 continues to send unsolicited advertising or fund-raising 24 material to the recipient after the recipient calls the 25 toll-free number or emails the address provided and requests
26 not to be sent the unsolicited advertising or fund-raising

1 material by the sender and the recipient can document such a
2 request (including method of contact, date, time, person spoken
3 to and promised outcome), the provisions of subsections (b), 4 (c), and (d) of this Section apply. If a business contracts
5 with a national facsimile transmission service to send 6 unsolicited advertising or fund-raising material, the national 7 facsimile transmission service must prove that the sender
8 contracted for such service in order for the sender to be 9 liable for the criminal and civil penalties provided in this 10 Section.
