23 money, goods, services, or other property exceeding a specified

1 value is brought the value of the credit, money, goods,
2 services, or other property is an element of the offense to be
3 resolved by the trier of fact as either exceeding or not
4 exceeding the specified value.

5 (d) A defense to aggravated identity theft under paragraph
6 (a)(1) does not exist merely because the accused reasonably
7 believed the victim to be a person less than 60 years of age.

8 (e) Sentence.

9 (1) Aggravated identity theft of credit, money, goods,
10 services, or other property not exceeding $300 in value is 11 a Class 3 felony.

12 (2) Aggravated identity theft of credit, money, goods,
13 services, or other property exceeding $300 and not
14 exceeding $10,000 in value is a Class 2 felony.

15 (3) Aggravated identity theft of credit, money, goods,
16 services, or other property exceeding $10,000 in value and
17 not exceeding $100,000 in value is a Class 1 felony.

18 (4) Aggravated identity theft of credit, money, goods,
19 services, or other property exceeding $100,000 in value is 20 a Class X felony.

21 (4.5) A person convicted of aggravated identity theft
22 for a violation of any offense enumerated in paragraphs (2)
23 through (7) of subsection (a) of Section 16G-15 of this
24 Code is guilty of a Class 2 felony.
