6 follows:

7 (10 ILCS 5/6-19.5 new)

8 Sec. 6-19.5. Rejection of Article by superseding county
9 board of election commissioners. In addition to any other
10 method of rejection provided in this Article, when a county 11 board of election commissioners is established in accordance 12 with subsection (b) of Section 6A-1 in a county in which is 13 located any portion of a municipality with a municipal board of 14 election commissioners, the application of the provisions of 15 this Article to the territory of that municipality located

18 Sec. 6A-1. Adoption of Article.

19 (a) Any county in which there is no city, village or 20 incorporated town with a board of election commissioners may 21 establish a county board of election commissioners either (1)
22 by ordinance of the county board or (2) by vote of the electors

2 6A-2.

3 The fact that some territory in a county is within the 4 corporate limits of a city, village or incorporated town with a
5 board of election commissioners does not prevent that county 6 from establishing a county board of election commissioners in 7 accordance with this Article if no portion of such city,
8 village or incorporated town was within the county at the time 9 of the establishment of the board of election commissioners for 10 such city, village or incorporated town. If such a county 11 establishes a county board of election commissioners pursuant 12 to this Article, the county board of election commissioners 13 shall, with respect to the territory in the county within the 14 corporate limits of the city, village or incorporated town,
15 supersede the board of election commissioners of that city,
16 village or incorporated town.

17 (b) Any county in which a city, village, or incorporated
18 town with a board of election commissioners is located may 19 establish a county board of election commissioners by vote of 20 the electors of the county in accordance with subsection (b) of 21 Section 6A-2. If such a county establishes a county board of 22 election commissioners, the county board of election
23 commissioners, with respect to the territory in the county
24 within the corporate limits of the city, village, or 25 incorporated town, shall supersede the board of election
26 commissioners of that city, village, or incorporated town.

15 commissioners shall be submitted to the electors of that county
16 at the next possible general election.

17 (c) The proposition shall be submitted in the same manner
18 as provided in Article 6 for the adoption of Articles 6, 14 and
