1 AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL 1155 2 AMENDMENT NO. . Amend House Bill 1155, AS AMENDED, by inserting the following in its proper numeric sequence: 3 "Section 200. Firearm carry prohibition; place of worship. 4 5 (a) No person may knowingly carry a firearm into any church, temple, or other place of worship, and any adjacent 6 7 property or parking lot area owned by or under the control of a church, temple, or other place of worship, unless authorized to 8 carry the firearm by the church, temple, or other place of 9 10 worship. 11 (b) The exemptions and provisions in subsections (a), (b), (f), (g-6), (g-10), (h), and (i) of Section 24-2 of the 12 13 Criminal Code of 2012 apply to this Section. (c) The United States Supreme Court in District of Columbia 14 v. Heller, 554 U.S. 570, 128 S.Ct. 2783 (2008) has recognized 15 16 that the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution does not confer an unlimited right and that states may prohibit

1 the carrying of firearms in sensitive places. The Supreme Court 2 stated in the Heller decision: "Although we do not undertake an exhaustive historical analysis today of the full scope of the 3 4 Second Amendment, nothing in our opinion should be taken to 5 cast doubt on longstanding prohibitions on the possession of 6 firearms by felons and the mentally ill, or laws forbidding the carrying of firearms in sensitive places such as schools and 7 government buildings . . . " The Supreme Court also noted in a 8 9 footnote referencing this statement in the Heller decision that: "We identify these presumptively lawful regulatory 10 11 measures only as examples; our list does not purport to be exhaustive." This recognition was reiterated by the U. S. 12 13 Supreme Court in McDonald v. the City of Chicago, 561 U.S. 3025, 130 S.Ct. 3020 (2010), which incorporated the Second 14 15 Amendment against state action. The Supreme Court again stated: 16 "We made it clear in Heller that our holding did not cast doubt on such longstanding regulatory measures as "prohibitions on 17 the possession of firearms by felons and the mentally ill," 18 "laws forbidding the carrying of firearms in sensitive places 19 20 such as schools and government buildings . . . We repeat those assurances here." Further, the federal 7th Circuit Court of 21 Appeals in Moore v. Madigan, 702 F.3d. 933 (7th Cir., 2012) 22 23 cited the "sensitive place" statement of the Supreme Court in 24 both the Heller and McDonald decisions and concluded: "That a 25 legislature can forbid the carrying of firearms in schools and 26 government buildings means that any right to possess a gun for 6 self-defense outside the home is not absolute, and it is not 1 absolute by the Supreme Court's own terms." Therefore, the 2 3 General Assembly finds that the place or location set forth in 4 subsection (a) of this Section is a sensitive place and the 5 prohibition on the carrying of firearms will promote public safety in this sensitive place.".
