1 AN ACT concerning regulation.

2 Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, 3 represented in the General Assembly:

Section 1. Short title. This Act may be cited as the Youth Mental Health Protection Act.

6 Section 5. Legislative findings. The General Assembly
7 finds and declares the following:

8 (1) Being lesbian, gay, or bisexual is not a disease, 9 disorder, illness, deficiency, or shortcoming. The major 10 professional associations of mental health practitioners 11 and researchers in the United States have recognized this 12 fact for nearly 40 years.

13 (2) The American Psychological Association convened a 14 Task Force on Appropriate Therapeutic Responses to Sexual Orientation. The Task Force conducted a systematic review 15 of peer-reviewed journal literature on sexual orientation 16 change efforts and issued a report in 2009. The Task Force 17 concluded that sexual orientation change efforts can pose 18 19 critical health risks to lesbian, gay, and bisexual people, including confusion, depression, guilt, helplessness, 20 21 hopelessness, shame, social withdrawal, suicidality, substance abuse, stress, disappointment, self-blame, 22 23 decreased self-esteem and authenticity to others, self-hatred, hostility and 1 increased blame towards 2 parents, feelings of anger and betrayal, loss of friends 3 and potential romantic partners, problems in sexual and emotional intimacy, sexual dysfunction, high-risk sexual 4 5 behaviors, a feeling of being dehumanized and untrue to 6 self, a loss of faith, and a sense of having wasted time 7 and resources.

8 (3) The American Psychological Association issued a 9 resolution on Appropriate Affirmative Responses to Sexual 10 Orientation Distress and Change Efforts in 2009 that 11 states: "The American Psychological Association advises 12 parents, guardians, young people, and their families to avoid sexual orientation change efforts that portray 13 14 homosexuality as a mental illness or developmental 15 disorder and to seek psychotherapy, social support, and 16 educational services that provide accurate information on 17 sexual orientation and sexuality, increase family and school support, and reduce rejection of sexual minority 18 19 youth.".

20 (4) The American Psychiatric Association published a 21 position statement in March of 2000 that states: 22 "Psychotherapeutic modalities to convert or 'repair' 23 homosexuality are based on developmental theories whose 24 scientific validity is questionable. Furthermore, 25 anecdotal reports of 'cures' are counterbalanced by 26 anecdotal claims of psychological harm. In the last four HB0217 Engrossed - 3 - LRB099 04356 HAF 24383 b decades, 'reparative' therapists have not produced any 1 2 rigorous scientific research to substantiate their claims 3 of cure. Until there is such research available, the American Psychiatric Association recommends that ethical 4 5 practitioners refrain from attempts to change individuals' 6 sexual orientation, keeping in mind the medical dictum to 7 first, do no harm. The potential risks of reparative 8 including depression, anxiety and therapy are great, 9 self-destructive behavior, since therapist alignment with 10 societal prejudices against homosexuality may reinforce 11 self-hatred already experienced by the patient. Many 12 patients who have undergone reparative therapy relate that 13 they were inaccurately told that homosexuals are lonely, 14 unhappy individuals who never achieve acceptance or 15 satisfaction. The possibility that the person might 16 achieve happiness and satisfying interpersonal 17 relationships as a gay man or lesbian is not presented, nor 18 are alternative approaches to dealing with the effects of 19 societal stigmatization discussed. Therefore, the American 20 Psychiatric Association opposes any psychiatric treatment 21 such as reparative or conversion therapy which is based 22 upon the assumption that homosexuality per se is a mental 23 disorder or based upon the a priori assumption that a 24 patient should change his or her sexual homosexual 25 orientation.".

(5) The American Academy of Pediatrics published an

1 article in 1993 in its journal, Pediatrics, that states:
2 "Therapy directed at specifically changing sexual
3 orientation is contraindicated, since it can provoke guilt
4 and anxiety while having little or no potential for 5 achieving changes in orientation.".

American Medical Association Council 6 (6) The on 7 Scientific Affairs prepared a report in 1994 that states: 8 "Aversion therapy (a behavioral or medical intervention 9 which pairs unwanted behavior, in this case, homosexual 10 behavior, with unpleasant sensations or aversive 11 consequences) is no longer recommended for gay men and 12 lesbians. Through psychotherapy, gay men and lesbians can become comfortable with their sexual orientation 13 and 14 understand the societal response to it.".

15 (7)The National Association of Social Workers 16 prepared a policy statement in 1997 that states: "Social 17 stigmatization of lesbian, gay, and bisexual people is widespread and is a primary motivating factor in leading 18 19 some people to seek sexual orientation changes. Sexual 20 orientation conversion therapies assume that homosexual 21 orientation is both pathological and freely chosen. No data 22 demonstrates that reparative or conversion therapies are 23 effective, and, in fact, they may be harmful.".

(8) The American Counseling Association Governing Council issued a position statement in April, 1999 that states: "We oppose the promotion of 'reparative therapy' as a 'cure' for individuals who are homosexual.".

(9) The American Psychoanalytic Association issued a 2 3 position statement in June, 2012 on attempts to change sexual orientation, gender, identity, or gender expression 4 5 that states: "As with any societal prejudice, bias against 6 individuals based on actual or perceived sexual 7 identity or orientation, gender gender expression 8 negatively affects mental health, contributing to an 9 enduring sense of stigma and pervasive self-criticism 10 through the internalization of such prejudice. 11 Psychoanalytic technique does not encompass purposeful 12 attempts to 'convert', 'repair', change or shift an 13 individual's sexual orientation, gender identity or gender 14 expression. Such directed efforts are against fundamental 15 principles of psychoanalytic treatment and often result in 16 substantial psychological pain by reinforcing damaging 17 internalized attitudes.".

(10) The American Academy of Child and Adolescent 18 19 Psychiatry published an article in 2012 in its journal, 20 Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, that states: "Clinicians should be aware that 21 22 there is no evidence that sexual orientation can be altered through therapy, and that attempts to do so may be harmful. 23 24 There is no empirical evidence adult homosexuality can be 25 prevented if gender nonconforming children are influenced 26 to be more gender conforming. Indeed, there is no medically valid basis for attempting to prevent homosexuality, which 1 2 is not an illness. On the contrary, such efforts may 3 encourage family rejection and undermine self-esteem, connectedness and caring, important protective factors 4 5 against suicidal ideation and attempts. Given that there is no evidence that efforts to alter sexual orientation are 6 7 effective, beneficial or necessary, and the possibility 8 that they carry the risk of significant harm, such 9 interventions are contraindicated.".

10 (11) The Pan American Health Organization, a regional 11 office of the World Health Organization, issued a statement 12 May, 2012 that states: "These supposed conversion in therapies constitute a violation of the ethical principles 13 14 of health care and violate human rights that are protected 15 by international and regional agreements.". The 16 organization also noted that reparative therapies "lack 17 medical justification and represent a serious threat to the health and well-being of affected people.". 18

19 (12) Minors who experience family rejection based on 20 their sexual orientation face especially serious health 21 risks. In one study, lesbian, gay, and bisexual young 22 adults who reported higher levels of family rejection 23 during adolescence were 8.4 times more likely to report 24 having attempted suicide, 5.9 times more likely to report 25 high levels of depression, 3.4 times more likely to use 26 illegal drugs, and 3.4 times more likely to report having engaged in unprotected sexual intercourse compared with peers from families that reported no or low levels of family rejection. This is documented by Caitlin Ryan et al. in their article entitled Family Rejection as a Predictor of Negative Health Outcomes in White and Latino Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Young Adults (2009), 123 Pediatrics 346.

7 (13) Illinois has a compelling interest in protecting
8 the physical and psychological well-being of minors,
9 including lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender youth
10 and in protecting its minors against exposure to serious
11 harms caused by sexual orientation change efforts.

Section 10. Purpose. The purpose of this Act is to protect lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender youth from sexual orientation change efforts, also known as conversion therapy.

15 Section 15. Definitions. For the purposes of this Act: "Mental health provider" means a clinical psychologist 16 17 licensed under the Clinical Psychology Licensing Act; a school psychologist as defined in the School Code; a psychiatrist as 18 defined in Section 1-121 of the Mental Health and Developmental 19 20 Disabilities Code; a clinical social worker or social worker 21 licensed under the Clinical Social Work and Social Work Practice Act; a marriage and family therapist or associate 22 23 marriage and family therapist licensed under the Marriage and 24 Family Therapy Licensing Act; a professional counselor or HB0217 Engrossed - 8 - LRB099 04356 HAF 24383 b

6 orientation change efforts" or "Sexual "conversion 7 therapy" means any practices or treatments that seek to change 8 an individual's sexual orientation, as defined by subsection 9 (o-1) of Section 1-103 of the Illinois Human Rights Act, 10 including efforts to change behaviors or gender expressions or 11 to eliminate or reduce sexual or romantic attractions or 12 feelings towards individuals of the sex. "Sexual same orientation change efforts" or "conversion therapy" does not 13 14 include counseling or mental health services that provide 15 acceptance, support, and understanding of a person without 16 seeking to change sexual orientation or mental health services 17 that facilitate a person's coping, social support, and gender identity exploration development, including 18 and sexual 19 orientation neutral interventions to prevent or address 20 unlawful conduct or unsafe sexual practices, without seeking to 21 change sexual orientation.

22 Section 20. Prohibition on conversion therapy. Under no 23 circumstances shall a mental health provider engage in sexual 24 orientation change efforts with a person under the age of 18. HB0217 Engrossed - 9 - LRB099 04356 HAF 24383 b

Section 25. Advertisement and sales; misrepresentation. No 1 2 person or entity may, in the conduct of any trade or commerce, 3 use or employ any deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation, or the concealment, suppression, 4 5 or omission of any material fact in advertising or otherwise offering conversion therapy services in a 6 manner that 7 represents homosexuality as a mental disease, disorder, or 8 illness, with intent that others rely upon the concealment, 9 suppression, or omission of such material fact. A violation of 10 this Section constitutes an unlawful practice under the 11 Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act.

Section 30. Discipline. Any sexual orientation change efforts attempted on a person under the age of 18 by a mental health provider may be considered unprofessional conduct. Mental health providers found to have engaged in a sexual orientation change effort on a patient under the age of 18 may be subject to discipline by the licensing entity or disciplinary review board with competent jurisdiction.

Section 90. The Consumer Fraud and Deceptive BusinessPractices Act is amended by changing Section 2Z as follows:
