4 Section 5. The Prisoner Interchange Act is amended by 5 changing Section 1 as follows:

6 (730 ILCS 155/1) (from Ch. 75, par. 61)

7 Sec. 1. The ~~The~~ warden or superintendent of any penal 8 institution in any county, township, city, village or 9 incorporated town to which prisoners have been committed for 10 imprisonment for conviction of misdemeanors or for nonpayment
11 of fines for violation of state law, ordinance, resolution,
12 rule or regulation of a township, city, village or incorporated
13 town may recommit such prisoners to confinement in any other 14 penal institution in the county in which, by contract or 15 otherwise, such prisoners may be held, but only with the 16 consent of the warden or superintendent of the other penal 17 institution. In making such recommitment the warden or 18 superintendent shall take into consideration the nature of the 19 offense, the character of the offender, whether the offender
20 should be held under maximum security conditions and any other 21 condition pertinent to such decision. The warden or 22 superintendent may recommit prisoners committed to his 23 institution to be confined in another penal institution in

1 which he may hold prisoners when in his judgment, such 2 recommitment will be beneficial to the welfare or 3 rehabilitation of the prisoner or is desirable to relieve 4 overcrowding in any such penal institution.

5 Appropriate records of such recommitments shall be kept by 6 the wardens or superintendents of both penal institutions. Such 7 recommitments shall not operate to lengthen or shorten the term
8 of imprisonment of prisoners.
